PENSACOLA, MARCH 10, 1900.

GENERAL SHAW, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., who made, in his inaugural address, such a vicious attack upon Pension Commissioner Evans, because that officer insists upon a wise and judicious administration of the pension laws, is about to visit a number of the southern states on what he calls a mission of peace and good will. He will be warmly welcomed, and it is to be hoped, will learn much about the sentiments of the people on the pension question.

EVEN should the Porto Rico tariff bill pass the senate intact, it will still have to run the gauntlet of the supreme court. The fact that that exalted body has been known to render decisions upon vital questions according to the political sentiments of its members, gives cause for doubt as to what may be its decision of a test case involving the constitutionality of the law; as well as for alarm lest its republican members may feel constrained to sustain a republican policy and doctrine, instead of impartially disposing of a constitutional question upon its merits.

HON. FRANK ADAMS, president of the senate, in a column communication to the Times-Union and Citizen, challenges the recent decision of Judge Wall declaring unconstitutional the fish law enacted by the legislature 1899, arguing, from a parliamentary standpoint, that the adoption of a substitute for an original bill is in the nature of an amendment, and therefore it need not be read three or different days to make its enactment in lieu of the original bill effective. Whether Judge Wall or Mr. Adams is right, discussion of the subject in the press is a work of supererogation, since the only means of legally testing Judge Wall's decision, and finally settling the question, is through an appeal from that decision to the supreme court.

THE CHRISTIAN.

It Will be Presented at the Opera House Thursday Night.

Hall Caine's great play "The Christian" will be seen here for one special performance at the opera house on Thursday night March 15, when Lieber & Co., will present it with a company numbering over 50 people, including Miss Edie Elder, a prime favorite in the South, who will essay "Glory Quale" supported by J. M. Colville, a fine romantic actor, who shares the stellar honors as "John Storm."

Talking of the poet of Cheyne Row, Mr. Hall Caine has behind him one memory which he cherishes almost beyond others. When Rosati fell into the sad state of infirmity which heralded death, Mr. Caine went to be his companion. He became nurse and guardian to the dying genius, soothed him when weary, warded him from needless interruptions, tended and consoled him. The literary fruit of this mission of kindness is an intimate picture of Rossetti's, which both for its frankness and reserve is admirable, and must necessarily be consulted by all who desire to know the author of "The House of Life."

She will soon be here, The Girl with the Auburn Locks.

AMONG THE BUSY BUILDERS

Work of the Week Done By Union Men.

An Interesting Report on New Buildings, Repairs and General Improvements, Reported for The News by the Efficient Business Agent of the Carpenters' Union.

Mr. Franklin's cottage on the outskirts of East Hill is nearly completed.

W. J. Scown's cottage near Mr. Franklin's, on East Hill, and which Mr. Scown has been working on for some time, is about completed.

Workmen have recovered Mr. A. V. Clubb's shop with corrugated iron roofing. Union men are building a small cottage on North Hayne street.

T. B. Turner's beautiful two-story dwelling, corner of Palafox and DeSoto streets, is enclosed, ready for the plasterers.

Mr. J. M. Clark, who has the above contract, has been doing some slight repairs at the Stratton ice works.

Mr. Clark has the contract of a pretty little 1-room cottage for Mr. Rolan Lee. Also repairs on cottage for Johnston Hooton on Gregory street.

Notice is given elsewhere in this paper that after April 1 no Union carpenter, brick mason, plasterer, painter or laborer will work on a building with non-union men.

Under the supervision of Mr. Chas. Turner, the commodious shops for horse-shoeing purposes for Mr. A. A. Weller, the horse-shoer at J. M. Hilliard's carriage works, is finished.

The two Moreno cottages on Church street are completed, all but the painting, which is being rapidly pushed to completion.

North has been broken and the foundation started for a handsome 2-story dwelling on the corner of Strong and Spring streets for J. S. McLaughlin, which is also one of Mr. Turner's contract.

Mr. A. V. Clubb has had the grounds on the large lot at the corner of Tarragona and Garden streets cleared up preparatory to erecting a large building thereon, for what purpose we have not as yet learned.

The walls to the Heineberg warehouse are completed and the interior wood work is being put in place ready for the overhead joist. The contractors, Pons and Sunday were also awarded the contract for a large warehouse for Lewis Bear & Co.

J. E. Ross & Co. have completed the following work: painting the interior of the West Florida Steam Bakery, painting and painting one room for Moog & Stern, one sign and window for Escambia hotel.

"Honest competition is the life of trade; live and let live should be the wish and motto of all. Make all you can but do it legitimately and fairly, and don't attempt to grind the life and crush the substance out of others who deserve an honest livelihood. This is from the Pensacola Press. And we might add that the man who is doing business and getting a fair remuneration for his services and then counsels his employees to do the work by piece and square work and sub-contracts at such prices that even should the men be competent to do the work, he cannot do it because he is getting only half-way-farmer's and has not the time to do a good job of work. Competition of this kind is unjust and the party or parties to such a transaction are helping to grind and crush the life out of their fellow creatures. If the contractor has a building to put up and offer his employees work, he is far below living wages, and said employee refuses to work for such prices, the said contractor can always pick up some wandering tradesman or other way-farer who will do the work either by piece work or sub-contract without license. While the citizens here, the honest toilers, the men who pay the taxes, do nothing, and as is often the case goes hungry.

Will the owners of this property expect the working classes to rent and occupy houses that they have been refused the right to own their own and bread in building? When these same owners have been prohibited relative to the injustice of such methods, they said they regarded it only as a matter of business, that they could not afford to have given the contract to any other party, because said party were several dollars above what the present contract called for; and why is the responsible contractor in a little higher position than some unscrupulous fellow? Because he pays his help enough that they may afford three meals a day and have a nickel to put in the coin when they go to church on Sunday, and because they do not try to cheat their employees out of what they have earned, when they work, and because they pay their hardware and lumber bills, and the owner does not have the bills presented to him for some payment, and because the work is completed and it is supposed all outstanding debts have been settled. There is quite a difference between these two classes of contractors, and your job to one you are putting the power in his hands to crush and grind. If you give to the other you are following the motto of "Live and let live."

"Murder will out." Impurities in the blood will also be sure to show themselves unless expelled by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A Life and Death Fight.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, La., writing of his almost miraculous escape from death, says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5.00 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure Throat, Chest and Lung troubles." THE WILBUR-KIRWIN OPERA COMPANY.

The Girl With the Auburn Locks.

An Engagement of Music and Mirth.—A splendid operatic production does not always imply that the most exorbitant prices must be charged; the day of this has gone by and the Wilbur-Kirwin Opera company abreast of the times long years ago discovered that the masses of the people liked opera, enjoyed it to the very fullest extent, but were deprived from attending performances simply because an absurd idea had placed it beyond their reach in the matter of prices. Many years ago the Wilbur-Kirwin Opera company launched, and in those days a parquette seat was extraordinarily high. This company plays the largest cities and to the populace gives performances that is commensurate upon unreservedly by the press and the public. Some of their productions are pronounced revelations, the big audiences simply showering encore upon encore upon Miss Kirwin and her associates. All this has been the record of this famous organization for many years, always playing the largest cities and making phenomenal runs in such cities as New York and Boston. The company to-day has a repertoire of twenty operas, and not one of them is costumed alike. There are just 137 trunks comprising the baggage carried, and these trunks are packed with the handsomest costumes ever carried by any organization. The company also owns carloads of scenery, and its entire equipment is a reflection of the years of prosperity it has enjoyed in giving operas to the American public. There is a big chorus with the company, numbering a score of handsome young women, who aside from looking pretty in the stunning costumes of the corymbes, will, it is said, be found excellently trained singers. The principals supporting Miss Kirwin have been engaged because, it is said, they were artists and favorites of the public as seasons of experience proved.

The engagement is for three nights commencing Monday evening, with Tuesday and Wednesday matinees, with the following repertoire: Monday evening, The Two Vagabonds; Tuesday matinee, Said Pasha; Tuesday night, Carmen; Wednesday matinee, The Queen's Lace Handkerchief; Wednesday night, a double bill, Mascot in two acts and Cavalleria Rusticana. Between acts the following novelties will be presented: The Sensation of the Hour in New York City, Boston and Philadelphia, The Girl with the Auburn Locks, Baby Beatrice, the child wonder in her comic songs and dances. The mandolin and guitar quartette, Mr. Post Mason in illustrated songs. The old Glory animated song sheet, and the Chrysanthemum march with calcium light effects by twenty of the prettiest girls in comic opera. The night prices are 25, 35 and 50 cents, and 25 cents to all parts of the house at the bargain matinees. This is said to be the best company ever in Pensacola for the money. So, be heard early for seats, or you'll stand up.

Baker, Jr., late of Selma, having purchased the Cordova restaurant on Government street and completely renovated it, adding many new improvements, has opened that institution and is now ready for business. The Times will take occasion to commend Mr. Baker to the good people of Pensacola. He is one of the cleverest fellows in the world and will make the deep water city a good citizen.

Allie had better make up his mind to feed the editor of the Times and the gang that he will take over to Perdido Bay next summer. We are coming, Allie, about 25 strong at a time, and are going to catch two or three times if we can spare the time. So you see, you have gotten yourself into trouble. MOUNTAIN MINT TONIC.

One year ago to-day I placed on the market my preparation—Mountain Mint Tonic. I advertised in "THE DAILY NEWS" for a period of six months. Prior to this, the medicine was unknown to the public. Up to date, 4206 bottles have been sold. The Tonic has made friends wherever it has gone, and practically no one has complained that it is not exactly as represented.

Recently I have made a valuable addition to its composition enhancing its value very much. This has been done at great expense to me, while the price to the public remains the same, namely: One dollar per bottle, six bottles for five dollars.

The addition spoken of above is directed especially to the relief of indigestion in its varied forms. With proper diet the Tonic will cure the worst forms of this tormenting affliction with its hundreds of obscure symptoms, often referred to other organs than the stomach.

By this addition, its virtues as a general tonic and invigorator and blood purifier, are not impaired in the least. No better medicine can be found for the relief of those diseases that are so prevalent in the spring months.

I take this opportunity to thank my friends for the support they have given this Tonic, and promise that Mountain Mint Tonic, as improved, will give still better satisfaction.
